To reviewers of rate increase request by Eversource
Docket. 26-05-10

Eversource has a monopoly on delivering electricity to Old Saybrook, CT. With a monopoly, the owners and directors of the company have a moral obligation not to take advantage of its customers. A rate increase of an average of 18% is way above the inflation rate. There is no visible improvement in the electric service to my house. We still get minor power outages all the time. The wires from the pole to my house are sagging and haven't been looked at in the 30 years I have lived here. This rate increase is especially not fair to people like myself on a fixed income. If the main purpose of the increase is to make more charging stations for those who choose to buy electric cars, then charge them extra for their choice.

A compromise increase would be more in line with inflation, at 3.5%. I am sure there are no executives, or non executive staff making $50-100/hour, that would suffer with an increase similar to the increase I am getting in Social Security this year.

Sincerely,
Jeff Seltzer
