Question:

(PLANT ADDITIONS) Application, Ex. CLP-ADDITIONS-1, p. 17. Explain why the Company no longer includes system resiliency as a capital investment category.

Response:

As stated by the Company in Exhibit CLP-ADDITIONS-1, at p. 17, "For CL&P, capital projects and programs are broken out into the following investment categories: Basic Business, New Customer, Peak Load/Capacity, Regulatory Commitments, Reliability, Facilities, Information Technology ("IT"), and Other Investments"

This level of category breakdown is for the high-level presentation for this Exhibit. The Company does continue to include resiliency as a capital investment category, however, it is summarized and included in the Reliability category noted here.

Please refer to Exhibit TSP-3, at 42, to see specific resiliency investment category amounts.
