Start a Job Requisition to Add a New Worker/Create a New Position

A job requisition is a request to fill a position within your supervisory organization.

Continue with this job aid if:

- You are replacing an active worker who has already left your organization via a transfer.
- You require a brand new position for the job requisition.

See Job Aid Start a Job Requisition to Replace a Worker if:

- You are replacing an active worker who is still in your organization and is leaving their role via a future dated termination or transfer.
- You are replacing an employee that has terminated within the last 90 days.

Workday Job Aids can be found on HRConnect under Resources & Applications > Workday Job Aids

Go to Workday and from the home page:

1. In the search field, type Start Job Requisition and select the start job requisition task in the search results.

JOB DETAILS

Basic Information

a. What supervisory organization is this job for? The field will default to your supervisory organization. Update the field only if the position is under one of your subordinate's supervisory organizations.

b. This job will ____. Choose "add a worker" by clicking the radio button.

c. Is there an existing position for this job?

- Select Yes if there is an existing unfilled position in your supervisory organization.
  - You will then be prompted to "Select an existing position for this job." Click the prompt icon and select the appropriate position by clicking the radio button.
- Select No if you need to create a new position.
  - You will then be prompted to indicate "How many openings are there for this job?" The field will default to 1. Update the number, if applicable.

Job Information

a. Job Profile—This field will auto populate if you selected an existing position above. To change, choose one of the "suggested for you" profiles or click the prompt icon and search for the correct one.

b. Job Title—This field will auto populate based on the job profile.

c. Job Description Summary—This field will auto populate based on the job profile. If nothing appears, leave the field blank.

d. Job Description—This field will auto populate for most jobs. Job descriptions have been reviewed and evaluated by HR Business Partners and Compensation. Please do not edit job descriptions in this field. If you feel edits are necessary, contact your HRBP. If a job description does not auto populate for a non-represented job, you must copy and paste the job description directly from a WORD document. If you don't have a WORD version of the job description, contact your HR Business Partner.
