Re: Docket No. 26-06-03 – GBII New Haven LLC Application to Establish 2027 Revenue Requirements

Dear Commissioners:

The Office of Consumer Counsel ("OCC") writes to bring to the Authority's attention GBII New Haven LLC's ("GBII") untimely responses to OCC's interrogatories in the above-captioned proceeding, as this has affected OCC's ability to effectively prepare and also may unnecessarily slow down this proceeding as a whole.

On July 8, 2026, OCC issued interrogatories from OCC to GBII New Haven LLC 1 through 19 and interrogatories from OCC to GBII New Haven LLC 20 through 23. They indicated a response due date of July 22, 2026. GBII did not file its responses until August 26, 2026, more than one month after the July 22 due date. GBII did not file a Motion for Extension for either set of these interrogatories.

OCC subsequently issued interrogatories from OCC to GBII New Haven LLC 24 through 33 on September 2, 2026. Those interrogatories indicated a response due date of September 16, 2026. As of the date of this correspondence, OCC has not received GBII's responses to interrogatories 24 through 33, and no Motion for Extension has been filed.

The timing of these responses has impacted OCC's ability to prepare for the October 5, 2026 hearing. In particular, OCC requires timely responses to its discovery in order to evaluate GBII's application, conduct any necessary follow-up discovery, and prepare for the evidentiary hearing. The delay in receiving responses to the initial interrogatories, together with the continued absence of responses to interrogatories 24 through 33, has compressed the time available for those activities and may lead to a less efficient in-person hearing.

In this constrained context, OCC will continue to prepare for the hearing based on the information available to it and reserves the right to address any additional impact resulting from GBII's outstanding discovery responses as appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,
