EXHIBIT A-12

a) Please see attached Exhibit A-12, Attachments 1 and 2, which include the two most recent years of IRS tax returns for M&L Service Providers LLC. M&L Service Providers LLC has not yet filed its 2025 tax return; however, the company has requested an extension from the IRS.

b) M&L Service Providers LLC is applying for authorization to operate as an Electric Broker in Connecticut. The company anticipates customer growth, stable recurring revenue, and has the financial capability to fully support its brokerage operations within the state.

M&L Service Providers LLC operates in the commercial energy sector and serves as a broker for various ESCOs. The company matches customers' locations and usage needs with competitive ESCO options, then negotiates favorable pricing, contract terms, and products for their electric usage.

Because the company works only with commercial customers, anticipated customer growth is moderate. In a new state, adding approximately three to five customers per year would be considered a satisfactory growth rate. Projected revenue per customer is approximately $4,000 annually, depending on the customer's size and kilowatt-hour usage.

c) M&L Service Providers LLC does not charge customers any fees. The company is compensated by the supplier through commissions, which are based on an agreed commission amount per kilowatt-hour for each signed transaction.

d) Not applicable. M&L Service Providers LLC does not plan to conduct aggregation activities in Connecticut or in any other state.
