REQUEST FOR INTERVENOR OR PARTICIPANT STATUS

Instructions*:

This request must be filed as a motion in the docket in which you seek intervenor or participant status. If you seek intervenor status, you must complete sections I, II, and IV. If you seek participant status, you must complete sections I, III, and IV.

Intervenor Status

To be designated as an intervenor in a contested case, a person must submit "a written petition to the agency . . . at least five days before the date of hearing; . . . that demonstrate[s] that the petitioner's participation is in the interests of justice and will not impair the orderly conduct of the proceedings." General Statutes § 4-177a(b).

If a person is permitted to intervene, the Authority "will determine the proposed intervenor's participation in the hearing, taking into account whether or not such participation will furnish assistance to the commissioners in resolving the issues of the contested case." Conn. Agencies Regs. § 16-1-18(c).

Specifically, the Authority "may limit the intervenor's participation to designated issues in which the intervenor has a particular interest as demonstrated by the petition . . . [and] may further restrict the participation of an intervenor in the proceedings, including the rights to inspect and copy records, to introduce evidence and to cross-examine, so as to promote the orderly conduct of the proceedings." General Statutes § 4-177a(d).

Participant Status

Any person granted permission by the Authority to take part in an uncontested proceeding shall be designated a participant. Conn. Agencies Regs. § 16-1-135(a). Except as provided under General Statutes § 16-19pp, the Authority determines "the nature and extent of a participant's participation in the uncontested proceeding, taking into account whether such participation will furnish assistance to the Authority in resolving the issues of the uncontested proceeding." Conn. Agencies Regs. § 16-1-135.

In an uncontested proceeding on issues affecting ratepayers, ratepayers are provided with equal status and the same rights of participation as that of a public service company. General Statutes § 16-19pp. Such ratepayers may file with the Authority a notice of intent to be a participant. Id.

7. Explain how your participation is in the interests of justice.

8. Explain how your participation will not impair the orderly conduct of the proceeding.

9. Explain how your participation will furnish assistance to the commissioners in resolving the issues of the contested case.

10. What is the nature and extent of your requested participation in the proceeding? (E.g., will you submit evidence, propound interrogatories, receive data and information filed by participants, cross-examine witnesses, file briefs, and/or present oral arguments? Is your requested participation limited to specific issues?)

III. Request for Participant Status

Complete questions 11-14 if you are requesting participant status:

11. Explain how your participation is important to the resolution of the issue(s) in the proceeding.

As a member of the bidirectional EV Working Group, VGIC has provided practical input based on its experience with bidirectional EV program design, interconnection, standards, and implementation issues across multiple jurisdictions. VGIC's continued participation in this proceeding will help ensure the Authority has the best available information to make informed decisions about how bidirectional EV charging systems can participate in the ESS Program safely, effectively, and at scale.

12. Explain how your participation will not impair the orderly conduct of the proceeding.

VGIC will not seek to delay the proceeding, broaden its scope, or revisit unrelated matters. Its participation will be focused, constructive, and limited to bidirectional EV charging issues relevant to the ESS Program.

13. Explain how your participation will furnish assistance to the commissioners in resolving the issues of the uncontested case.

VGIC can assist the Authority by providing technical and market expertise on bidirectional EV charging and the integration of mobile battery resources into energy storage programs. This input can help PURA evaluate the working group report and related program design questions. VGIC's work across multiple state proceedings on issues associated with scaling bidirectional charging will help identify approaches that are scalable and administratively practical. Its participation will support a more complete record.

14. What is the nature and extent of your requested participation in the proceeding? (E.g., will you submit evidence, propound interrogatories, receive data and information filed by participants, cross-examine witnesses, file briefs, and present oral arguments relevant to this proceeding? Is your requested participation limited to specific issues?)

VGIC requests participant status for the limited purpose of addressing bidirectional EV charging systems. VGIC expects to receive docket materials, submit written comments as appropriate, respond to PURA or Staff questions, and provide technical and policy input related to the working group report and and proposed order. VGIC's participation will be limited and non-duplicative.
