Emily C. Deans, Esq.
Robinson & Cole
1055 Washington Boulevard
Stamford CT 06901-2249

July 21, 2026

Dear Ms. Deans:

I am writing to formally notify you of my objection and that of my wife, Vilaivan Seedasome, to the placement of 5G "small cell antennae or antennas and associated radio and electrical equipment" on the pole adjacent to our home at 312 Valley Road in Cos Cob. We are deeply concerned over the effects to personal health and to the environment. In addition, there is also the detrimental effect to our property's value. Potential buyers often view the equipment as cumbersome, unsightly and potentially harmful.

The environmental impact on trees and wildlife in the area is also a concern. I note that many municipalities have adopted their own sets of laws regarding small cell installations near trees, requiring they be placed at least 15-25 feet from a tree trunk so that no disturbance would occur within 5 feet of the critical root zone in order to protect the health of the tree. Other municipalities require the submission of a tree conservation plan specifying tree protection methods. Further, there is research indicating potential effects on bird navigation and behavior dur to electromagnet fields and suggesting possible impacts on insect populations, which are crucial for pollination.
Mrs. Seedasome and I are both in our mid seventies and my wife has health issues which interfere with her sleeping patterns. I am concerned that the noise from this equipment and, in fact the anxiety created by her fear of possible long-term effects will only exacerbate her feelings of unrest and apprehension. She should not be subjected to such feelings of unease in a home we have enjoyed for over 20 years.

We are, hence, registering our complaint and sending copies of this letter to PURA and the Town of Greenwich.

Sincerely,
Srisak Seedasome
Srisak Seedasome

cc: PURA
Small Cell Tel Installations
10 Franklin Sq.
New Britain, CT 06051

cc: Town of Greenwich
Planning + Zoning Dept
Zoning Enforcement Office
101 Field Pt Rd
Greenwich, CT 06830